

A Level Religious
Studies

Qualification	WJEC
Entry requirements	B grade in Religious Studies or grade 5 in English Language
Course description	The A Level Religious Studies course invites you to study and debate some of the key religious, philosophical and moral issues that are raised by life today. In this exciting and multi-disciplinary course you will be asked to look at ideas from religion, science, ethics, philosophy and social issues. The course consists of a study of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> *the significant concepts, such as reality or the soul, and other issues in the philosophy of religion through the works of key thinkers *contrasting arguments about the existence or non-existence of God *the nature and influence of religious experience *the challenge posed to religious belief by the existence of evil and suffering in the world *beliefs about the nature of God and ways these may have changed *the limits of religious language and ways religious language might be understood *ethical theories – Kantian, Situation, Utilitarian *ethical language Additionally, an in-depth study of Christianity and Christian thought.
Assessment	Examinations
Progression	Religious Studies offers you a varied, stimulating and challenging course. It is highly regarded by most employers and Institutes of Higher Education as a subject that develops academic skills, alongside an understanding of human life and experience.
Related Courses	Religious Studies can be taken alongside many subjects including History, Government & Politics, Geography and the sciences